THIRD GAME WON BY BRATTLEBORO

Home Team Takes Decisive
Game in Series With Hinsdale

ALL ITS RUNS MADE
IN EARLY INNINGS

Score of Sunday Game 7 to 6—Lack of Snap and Go in Spite of Rooters —
Brattleboro Pitcher Unsteady —Hins-dale Finishes Strong.

Brattleboro won from Hinsdale the third and decisive game of the series between the teams by a score of 7 to 6 at Island Park yesterday afternoon. It was a game that apparently was cinched by Brattleboro early in the proceedings, and although Hinsdale crawled up to within one run of tying the score in the last two innings, for some reason there was a lack of snap and go to the affair. A few faithful tried hard to inject life from the grandstand, but the "pep" would not carry that distance.

With left field filled in with soft earth, the infield grass far from close clipped and broken stone dumped in front of the grand stand while pools of water stood in the sunken places between home plate and the grand stand, it was an outlook that spoke for anything but excessive speed.

Powers pitched better ball than the score shows and Thompson was not as steady as usual, while his idea of the location of first base ranged from the base of Wantastiquet mountain to the new union station, with the base of the mountain favored. Gray, who has hit exceptionally well in all his games this season, again had a field day at the bat and turned in two beautiful stops and throws. The veteran Dan Riley slammed out a double and two singles, although one of them was due entirely to his speed.

Hinsdale claimed to have strengthened and produced two players named Weeks who alternated at first base. One was left handed and the other right and one wore a sweater. Aside from that it was hard to tell them apart. They fielded all right, but their hitting was nil. Walker, who used to twirl and in the two preceding games of the series played first, was found at shortstop, where he got away with only one error in three chances. Mason, for some reason or other, did not consent to enter the game until Mann had cost a couple of runs by ducking on March's fly to right in the fourth, which went for a double. He lost the ball in the sun. After that Mason played right field and did not have a chance, but made a hit that drove in two runs in the eighth.

Thompson squeezed out of a hole in the first when Walker singled and stole. Houle sacrificed him to third, but the next two were unable to carry him along to the plate. In the home team's half Gray singled on the first ball pitched and Riley, after fouling off a dozen or so, doubled inside third base. Gray scored on a passed ball and Riley scored a minute later on a wild pitch.

An error by Blake, a passed ball and single by Gillian gave Hinsdale a run in the second. In the third, singles by Riley, March and Taylor, a steal by March and errors by Cunningham and Walker gave two more runs.

A two-base mull of Clune's liner by Houle in the fourth, Gray's second single, March's sunfield double and a single to center by Thompson scored the last three for Brattleboro.

Not until the seventh did Hinsdale score their second run. Powers got a lucky single to short and was forced by Walker. Walker took second on one of Thompson's wild throws to first, went to third on an infield out and scored on Gray's error.

With one out in the eighth and Gillian on first, Thompson again threw wild trying to catch the runner. Cunningham singled and Mason followed with another, scoring both runners. Home rooters began to get nervous in the ninth. With one out Thompson passed Houle and threw wild to first on B. Weeks' infield tap, the runners reaching third and second. Blake lost an infield drive by La Chance, and, as no member of the Brattleboro team thought it worth while to chase the ball, both runners scored. La Chance reached third on Gillian's out. Blake to March, and the same combination ended for Cunningham. The score:
